Popular local chef and restaurateur, Mawa McQueen of McQueen Hospitality Group, is slated to open The Crêpe Shack by Mawa's Kitchen in Snowmass Base Village on the new plaza next to the ice rink this December. McQueen's popular sweet and savory crepes, including favorites like the Mawa's Greens with spinach, avocado and broccoli pesto, will make an appearance on the menu, alongside comfort foods like grilled cheese and soups, and fresh-baked pastries and breads. McQueen takes great pride in her culinary approach using fresh, nutritious ingredients in creative ways, and will offer three different crepe batters: a gluten-free/vegan buckwheat flour; garbanzo bean flour; and regular flour. Other healthy, homemade options include gluten-free/dairy-free roasted tomato basil soup and gluten-free breads, organic ingredients including eggs, milk and almond milk, and local coffees, cappuccino, and fresh squeezed juices. The menu will also feature liege waffles, galettes, and fresh-baked French croissants and baguettes stuffed with ham and cheese or chocolate, in addition to other offerings.
